

Dear Colleagues,

Albinism Europe is pleased to announce the 5th European Days of Albinism (SEDA).

EDAs include Scientific sessions with leading scientists in the field as well as a Meeting of the European Patients Associations.

EDAs are a unique opportunity for Scientists and Associations to meet and to strengthen links between patients and the medical world.

SEDA will take place in Bordeaux (France), April 1st-4th, 2020.

Preliminary program of the scientific sessions:

Wednesday, April 1st evening : Welcome dinner

Thursday, April 2nd morning : Genetics, Dermatology

afternoon : Ophthalmology, eye development

Friday, April 3rd morning : Syndromic Forms of albinism (cellular and clinical aspects)

afternoon : Therapies

Saturday, April 4th morning : Common session scientists and patients associations

You are clinician, biologist, researcher: save the date and attend SEDA !

Looking forward to seeing you at SEDA,

Best regards,

Pr. Benoit Arveiler

Co-Chair of Albinism Europe's Scientific Committee.
